"Serve the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul."

~Deuteronomy 10:12

It is always my hope to serve the Lord and love people in any way that I can. And I am sure that in 2010 I did this to the best of my ability. I just can not remember, for the life of me, what those actions entailed. I know I did some things like make people in need food. My ministry, Etooinin', continues to be very relational in nature and I have worked to encourage people in my life no matter where I meet them. But as to specifics beyond that, I can not really remember. I do remember that my life was blessed tremendously in 2010. I asked for things I had no need of, and God granted my requests. I traveled to Alaska without money to pay for the plane ticket. Ditto on a trip to Colorado, San Diego and Dallas. God gave me a wonderful woman to serve beside me as I suffer from bipolar disorder and she has been such a blessing to me. Whatever I may have done for the Lord is totally eclipsed by all these blessings I have received in my life. I completed three semesters toward my Graphic Design Associates and have only one semester to go.

On Dec. 31st of 2008, Etooinin' Incorporated was dedicated as a public ministry to the Lord Jesus Christ. For that reason, I decided to openly publish my finances at the end of each year. However, with a new woman in my life, I am not sure I will continue to do this. I feel it is important that you know how I live my lifestyle as in many cases your donations fund it. This year income also came in the form of MRC grants and Stafford Loans for schooling (The "Other" category). I also declared Chapter 7 bankruptcy and surrendered my condo.

Our goals in 2011 are to:

1. Graduate with an Associates in Graphic Design from Mt. Wachusett on May 19th.
2. Explore scholarship funding options to continue at UMass Lowell for a Bachelors in Graphic Design.
3. Explore the job market, network and try to find work as a Graphic Designer.
4. Explore a Christian Business opportunity with friends as the Lead Artist.
5. Continue to decrease wasteful and impulsive spending and work towards a balanced budget.
